

2007 Legacy Leadership Institute™ on the Environment

Preparing Experienced Adults for Leadership and Professional Volunteer Service With Environmental Nonprofits

Contribute to the Environment and Your Community

Do you want to contribute to solving environmental challenges that face the region and the planet? Would you like to apply your professional skills and experience to new and meaningful projects in the nonprofit community?

The Legacy Leadership Institute on the Environment prepares you to make a significant contribution in a professional volunteer role within an environmental nonprofit.

The program brings talented, experienced adults together with experts in environmental education, advocacy and stewardship, and leaders in the nonprofit community.

Learning is interactive, dynamic and fun. You assess your abilities and interests, learn new ways to think about leadership and have the opportunity to apply these insights and ideas through service learning in one of the Institute's participating environmental groups.

Learn From Environmental and Nonprofit Experts

You gain knowledge directly from field experiences at participating environmental centers and learn from scientists, environmental educators and skilled graduate instructors.

The Institute's core curriculum includes:

- Transformational leadership skills
- Nonprofit organization operations and structure
- Community collaboration and communication skills
- Visits to local environmental organizations
- Preparation for a role in community outreach on behalf of an environmental nonprofit

People For Puget Sound

Work With Respected Environmental Organizations

More than a dozen environmental organizations already have signed on to contribute to and accept Institute graduates. These include:

- Conservation Northwest
- Earth Share Washington
- Lettuce Link/Solid Ground
- Mountains to Sound Greenway
- Nature Consortium
- Northwest Interpretive Association
- Pacific Northwest Salmon Center
- People for Puget Sound
- Puget Creek Restoration Society (Tacoma)
- Seattle Tilth
- Sierra Club Cascade Chapter
- Stillwaters Environmental Education Center
- Stilly Snohomish Fisheries Enhancement Task Force
- Washington Citizens for Resource Conservation
- West Sound Wildlife Shelter

About the Institute Facilitator

Ellen J. Wallach, past board chair of Leadership Tomorrow, leads the Institute. She is an organizational development consultant, speaker, writer and filmmaker. For the past 33 years, she has worked with public, private and nonprofit clients. Her academic training was at Adelphi University and the University of Maryland. Wallach's practice focuses on individual and team motivation, effectiveness and success. She is interested in organizational growth, change and challenge. Wallach is a board member of the Independent Colleges of Washington and is one of the founders of Next Chapter of Puget Sound.

Join Other Professionals Who Want to Make a Difference

This Legacy Leadership Institute takes place at Antioch University Seattle and local environmental centers. The Institute is limited to 20 people.

- The program is offered Tuesdays and Wednesdays from Oct. 9 to Nov. 14, 2007, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. (The second week, however, takes place on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 17 and 18).
- Following the program, you are placed with an affiliated environmental nonprofit for 250 to 400 hours of flexible leadership service.
- Tuition is $1,500

Apply Today

For an application, contact Antioch University Seattle's Center for Continuing Education: ce@antiochseattleu.edu or 206-268-4111.

Deadline to apply to the program is Sept. 17, 2007.

antioch
UNIVERSITY SEATTLE
2326 Sixth Ave., Seattle, WA 98121